

Incorporation Procedure Under Way

Notice of Intention Is Filed

Notice of Intention to incorporate 30 square miles to the north of Palm Springs was filed yesterday with the clerk of the Board of Supervisors, and at the same time, members of the Palm Springs City Council met to map a way of helping or hindering the plan.

The City Council, visibly shook by the suddenness at which the proponents of incorporation of North Palm Springs acted, took an accounting of things yesterday and decided that it would abide its time and see how the proceedings went before jumping into any kind of action.

ACTION, ON THE part of the proponents to incorporation, came after a mass meeting Sunday at which some 100 persons gathered to discuss the possibility of incorporation.

Principals in the group included Bobby Garcia, operator of the Silver Palm Social Club; Tom Pendergast, president of the North Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce; John Krysiak, chairman of the Free Enterprise Desert Protective Association; Dick Maher, North Palm Springs and Palm Springs furniture dealer; A. N. Scott, lumberman; Al Scharf, Garnet real estate investor; O. S. Dean, Harold Case and John Rose of North Palm Springs.

THE FILING OF THE "intention" merely started the ball rolling, for now it will be necessary to circulate a petition. After the petition has been circulated, a plan will be sent to the County Boundary Commission which will set the boundaries of the proposed new city limits, and bonds must be posted to cover the costs of public notices.

A public hearing will have to be held before the Board of Supervisors, which incidentally has the power to change the boundaries if it so determines, and then an election can be called. It takes a majority vote to pass.

THE CITY OF Palm Springs is expected to muster what forces it can to fight the possibility of incorporation, although the action will be slow and precise. In their first move they are gathering together forces which will be against the incorporation program. These forces will be held in abeyance until the public hearing before the Board of Supervisors.

One Palm Springs councilman told of a conversation with Bobby Garcia, in which the councilman quoted Garcia as saying that "I could put you (Palm Springs) on the map like Gardena."

A BIG QUESTION before local councilmen was: "Is this a move by the proponents of the card club to use pressure to get annexed to the City of Palm Springs?"

Garcia said that he will finance the incorporation, which will cost from $5,000 to $8,000, and indicated that he is "taking a chance" that the new city will grant him a license to "operate a club which will permit playing of card games approved by the State of California."

GARCIA CHARGED that Riverside County Sheriff Joe Rice spent enough money investigating and operating against Silver Palm Social Club to pay for a new deputy in Desert Hot Springs.

Hardly discussed, but ever present is the fact that Garcia is also planning an automobile speedway within the proposed incorporated area.

PENDERGAST, WHO operates a North Palm Springs cocktail lounge and is a real estate broker, said incorporation "is a golden opportunity" to invite light industries which have been given a "cold shoulder" by Palm Springs. He maintained that the main reason for incorporation is not gambling, but said "we will license one private club... but there will be no open gambling establishments."

"I don't see how one private club can hurt our progress," the chairman of the incorporation committee added.

PROPOSERS HAVE as their main interest the attracting of light industry which can make North Palm Springs a stable, 12 month community, it was stated. No one favored heavy, smog-producing industries.

Pendergast noted that Desert Hot Springs and Palm Springs are primarily interested in the real business and "don't want industry. But we do."

To help their industrial growth, it was mentioned that already there are three existing railroad sidings within the area to be incorporated. "This would be an inducement to industry," it was pointed out.

KRYSIK SAID that he did not want to be "gobbled up by Palm Springs" and that his primary aim is to see that North Palm Springs becomes a stable, planned, year-round community. "Incorporation is our only feasible, sound solution to our problem," he added.

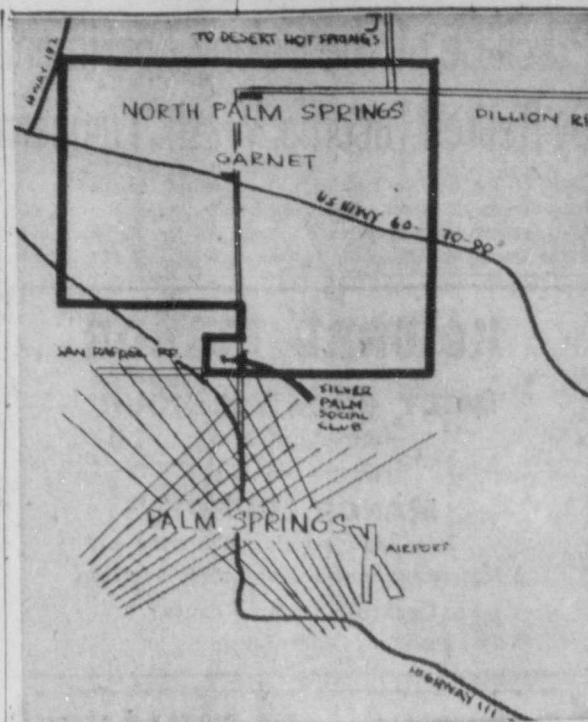

Krysiak said that if Palm Springs annexed the northern territory (which has already been studied by the City Planning Commission) it would rezone the industrial area. "Palm Springs will do anything it can to keep industry out of its surrounding area."

PROPOSERS REPEATEDLY said that Palm Springs influence "scared out" many small, smogless industries seeking to locate in the North Palm Springs and adjacent areas.

Of the more than 100 persons present, none were in opposition to the incorporation, but one man, Harold Case, a committee member, said he was originally an opponent but now had swung the other way.

TWO OTHER MEN said they thought the area could invite industry without incorporating since much of it is already zoned M-3 or W-2, but it was felt that pressure from Palm Springs might cause the county planners to refuse industrial permits.

Palm Springs City Council had prepared to call a special session if the clerk of the Board of Supervisors had failed to accept the notice of intention, at which time they would have taken the last step to start annexation proceedings. Now that the notice of intention has been filed, the proponents of incorporation have 90 days in which to circulate their petition.

AREA TO BE INCORPORATED in relation to the City of Palm Springs and unincorporated areas of Garnet, North Palm Springs and Desert Hot Springs is pointed out in this scale drawing. Enveloping 30 square miles, the new city will nullify the community of Garnet, take out a big section of Highway 60-70-99, as well as border on both sides of Indian Avenue.

THIS IS THE AREA which will be incorporated as North Palm Springs, explains Garnet real estate investor Al Scharf as he traces map boundaries of the proposed city for the 100 area residents who attended a public meeting at Silver Palm Social Club Sunday. Scharf and a committee of incorpora-

Chamber Asks City Action on 'For Sale' Signs

Chamber of Commerce Manager Jimmy Cooper, this week wrote the City Council, asking for support in securing removal of the "For Sale" signs that are currently being displayed on Palm Springs homes.

The move, originated by the Palm Springs Real Estate Board, is designed to keep values in Palm Springs from dropping, and to lower the potential of crime in this community.

At the same time, Chief Building Inspector Jack Sanders asked the council if something could not be done about the "open house" signs which are placed in front of new homes in subdivisions. He said that Palm Springs did have an ordinance against the display of these signs, and that he has been involved in many disagreements with Realtors and salesmen because he has asked that they be removed.

Proposed by the building inspector is a small seal, about the size of a dime, which can be placed on any sign which complies with local ordinance.

STREET, HIGHWAY PLAN SCHEDULED BEFORE PLANNERS

Palm Springs Streets and Highways plan will be up for continued discussion by the City Planning Commission tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m.

The plan has been completed by Special Planning Consultant Simon Eisner and is part of the general plan for the City of Palm Springs.

It covers such projects as the freeways, reports on existing streets and highways, model ordinances regulating outdoor advertising along freeways and highways, and proposed plans for streets and highways.

Other matters that will be before the commission include public hearing on amendment change of current standards permitting two-story with a 30 foot height limit for structures in R-1 zone districts to a new standard which will limit them to a one story or 15-foot limit, and a hearing for the deletion of a section which now permits more than one family dwelling on any one lot having an area of 20,000 square feet or more in R-1 zone district.

Rose Parade Officials Add $2,000 to Fund; Plan Queen

More than $2,000 was added to the Palm Springs Rose Parade float building fund today as Float Association officials tallied proceeds of their Friday night costume ball.

At the same time, association directors announced that with the consent of Miss Universe sponsors, the Miss Palm Springs chosen at that contest next June will ride on the Palm Springs float in the Tournament of Roses parade Jan. 1, 1959.

IN MAKING THIS decision, directors said it was hoped that other civic organizations will cooperate and that this Miss Palm Springs will reign at functions all year.

Directors acted, following a recommendation brought in by a Float Queen committee headed by Hildy Crawford. Other committee members are Muriel Fulton, Ken Jackson and Roy Randolph.

BALL CHAIRMEN Peggy Dexter and Anita Haskell Jones laid the big El Mirador Hotel dance netted more than $2,000 for the fund set up to finance construction of a Village entry in the 1959 Pasadena Rose Parade.

Association directors today announced that they intend to follow up this successful event with an "all-out program to reach their $15,000 goal by the end of the spring season.

The association also made plans to advance its "Rose Decal" campaign, the sale of auto window stickers for $1 each, as a continuing means of raising funds.

FLOAT COMMITTEE members will contact fraternal organizations and service clubs this week to enlist new aid in sale of the colorful decals.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is also aiding the fund-raising drive by soliciting charter Float Association memberships. Membership cards are awarded for $1 donations.

Nixon May Visit Soviet Satellites

WASHINGTON — The State Department wants Vice President Richard M. Nixon to visit Soviet satellites if he goes to Europe this fall, it was learned today.

New Economy Boost Asked Of Congress

WASHINGTON — New administration and congressional plans shaped up today for pumping additional billions into the sagging economy.

Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole offered a $1,350,000,000 program to stimulate slum clearance and city refurbishing projects.

THE SENATE Housing Subcommittee studied an emergency proposal by its Chairman John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.), to set up a revolving fund of $1,500,000,000 for purchase of federal housing and G.I. home mortgages.

At the White House, meanwhile, President Eisenhower and Republican congressional leaders discussed the possibility of pouring more money into the federal highway construction program.

SENATE REPUBLICAN Leader William F. Knowland, Calif., said more money for highways was talked over during the President's weekly meeting with the GOP leaders. He said legislation also was discussed.

He added, however, that the question of a tax cut did not come up at today's talk with the President.

Knowland said there are a number of alternative proposals for dealing with the recession. They include, he said, highway construction, housing programs, various public works, and the tax cut.

CONGRESSMAN D. S. SAUND, center, greets Stewart Pickering as the Riverside County Democratic Council member. Pickering is the host of the Palm Springs convention Sunday, while Richard Nevins, candidate for the post of Fourth Regional member to the State Board of Equalization, looks on. Pickering was one of the Palm Springs delegates attending the convention to endorse Democratic candidates for Congress, the State Assembly and other offices. Among those endorsed at the day-long Chi Chi conclave were Congressman Saund, who will oppose Republican John Babbage in the race for the 29th Congressional District seat in the House of Representatives; and Assembly candidate Clifford V. Dean, of Banning. (Desert Sun Photo.)

28 Items Slated For Legislature

SACRAMENTO — A full agenda of legislation greeted the Assembly and Senate today in the wake of Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's decision to call a special session. Twenty-eight separate items were added to the state budget as subject for legislative action Monday by Knight's special session proclamation.

'Porchlight Parade' Planned For United Fund Mop-up

Village residents were today alerted for the "Porchlight Parade," a house-to-house mop-up for the current Palm Springs United Fund campaign.

United Fund Chairman Homer Hilton said the porchlight parade gets under way the evening of March 11 as a final effort to reach the 102,500 United Fund goal.

HILTON SAID the campaign has passed the half-way mark, but, he pointed out, many Villagers have not contacted.

Residents who have not been contacted or who wish to make additional donations are asked to leave their porch lights on next Tuesday evening.

Volunteer Fund workers will call on all dwellings marked by the lights between 7 and 9 p.m., said Mrs. Sidney Niles, porchlight parade chairman.

THIS IS THE last of the series of special events chartered for the benefit of United Fund, an organization which combines all resort charities into one annual campaign, Mrs. Niles said.

Mrs. Niles explained that the volunteers will operate from the various school districts and will attempt to reach every door within the areas.

However, Mrs. Niles said, residents who are not called upon by workers during the porchlight campaign are asked to call the Palm Springs Youth Center. A volunteer will be dispatched to pick up the donation.

CROSBY DEFINES 'LITTERBUGS' IN PROCLAMATION

PALM DESERT — Honorary Mayor Bing Crosby today issued a proclamation condemning trash scatterers as "desert litterbugs."

The mayoral decree proclaimed the month of March as "Make Palm Desert Beautiful Month" and served notice that the area hereabouts is going to be downright unhealthy for litterbugs.

Crosby's proclamation noted that: "Any litterbug, scatter scamp, burning bum, trash tramp, beer can tosser and/or Kleenex krumbler, or any person who does wilfully destroy the natural beauty of Palm Desert shall forever hereafter be known to all as a common 'Desert Litterbug.'"

Dulles Asks 'Real, Not Fiction' Talks

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today rejected as unacceptable Soviet proposals for a foreign ministers' meeting as a prelude to a summit conference.

Dulles bluntly told a news conference that the United States rejects moves which would make this country any party to a fraud, a hoax, a show or a spectacle at a summit conference between East and West.

DULLES SAID there is a great danger in all efforts to substitute fiction for reality in dealing with outstanding East-West issues.

He suggested that the Soviets may want to promote the fiction, as he put it, that the East-West cold war has come to an end.

DULLES SAID the United States wants meetings with the Soviet Union which would resolve significant issues in a manner to ease East-West tensions and promote world peace. But he said this government would not attend a summit conference which would increase tensions.

Dulles' brusque comments were directed at Moscow's proposal to hold a foreign ministers' conference in April to set the time, place and agenda for a summit conference. The Soviet proposal was contained in notes to the United States, Britain, France, and other countries.

THE RUSSIANS said at the same time that advance agreement should be reached on a summit agenda based only on subjects "all participants in the conference are ready to discuss."

They then ruled out a discussion of Germany and the status of Eastern European satellites—two subjects the United States wants to talk about.

Dulles said the Soviet proposal for a foreign ministers' meeting seems to be surrounded by conditions which would preclude the kind of conferences the United States wants.

Motorist Expected to Be Charged With Every Moving Law Violation

Willie Riley, a 26-year-old Palm Springs man who allegedly vented his disdain for the law by bashing three police cars, today faces possible prosecution on charges covering almost every moving traffic violation in the statute books.

Riley, of 107 Calle Santa Rosa, was cornered by a brace of dented squad cars here Sunday after a high-speed chase that ranged from Banning to the doorstep of downtown Palm Springs.

DURING THE course of hectic pursuit police said Riley banged one Banning police car, two Village squad cars, ran scores of stop signs, violated speed laws, drove on the wrong side of the road and, among other things, ignored commands to stop.

Riley was turned over to Banning police for prosecution today. He had been booked by Palm Springs police on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and reckless driving and will presumably face these charges when Banning is through with its case.

THE CHASE STARTED after Banning police investigated a "disturbance" at a wedding party there. Riley, a wedding guest, was asked to stand by while officers continued their investigation.

Instead, Riley leaped into his car and drove off, police said. A Banning police car took off in pursuit. The chase roared onto Highway 111, towards Palm Springs, and the Banning officers said they tried to halt Riley by pulling in front of him.

RILEY ALLEGEDLY rammed the prowl car and sped off. Palm Springs police joined the chase as it crossed the city limits. A city car repeated the Banning officer's tactics and Riley repeated his performance by slamming into the rear of the Village car, police said.

The chase ranged off and on the highway, across dirt side roads and back onto Palm Canyon Drive.

VILLAGE OFFICERS feared that Riley, now reportedly driving on the wrong side of the road, would plow into heavy downtown traffic at high speed.

A second Village car was badly dented as officers deliberately pulled into Riley's car to force him to a stop. Another car pulled in front while a third and fourth came in behind and Riley was finally boxed to a stop at Hermosa and Palm Canyon Drive, officers reported.

Purchase of The Colony Apartments Disclosed By Retired Tacoma, Wash., Lumberman Lee Doud

Sale of The Colony, luxurious Palm Springs apartment - resort, was announced today by purchaser Lee Doud.

Doud, retired Tacoma, Wash., lumberman, said he completed negotiations for the sale today with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Beatty, owners of the 11-apartment structure.

Doud said he will take over active management and operation of the Colony, 439 South Cahulla Road, with his bride-to-be, Colony manager, Janice Chiquise.

A Village winter visitor for more than 10 years, Doud operated his own lumber plant and saw mill until his retirement in 1952.

He still maintains his home in Tacoma but plans to spend most of his time in residence at The Colony.

The Colony was designed and built by artist - illustrator Earl Cordery eight years ago. The Beattys purchased the luxury apartment building a year ago.

Police to Use Old Fire Station For Office Space

City Council yesterday gave an unofficial nod of approval to City Manager Robert W. Peterson to allow him "to spend a couple of hundred dollars" to fix up the old Palm Springs fire station into new offices to serve the local police station until the department's new building is completed in about a year and a half.

Architect John Clark will draw "inexpensive plans" for the offices and city workmen will do the partitioning work.

The additional office space will only temporarily solve the office problem at the police station, and will be put into use only until the new building is completed.

Purim Service Set Wednesday

A special service in observance of Purim will be held at Temple Isaiah, 332 West Alejo Road, at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday.

Traditional Purim noisemakers will be provided and refreshments of Purim delicacies will be served.

Woman Injured In Car Accident

A Palm Springs woman suffered minor injuries Sunday when the car in which she was riding apparently went out of control and rammed a power pole at East Ramon Road near Vista Oro.

Police said the car was driven by Henry James Mackin, 45, of 940 Camino Parocela. Mackin's wife, Elizabeth, went to Desert Hospital for treatment of minor injuries, police reported.

United Fund Benefit Success

Villager Scares Off Burglar

Village resident Al Weingarten today told police that he apparently returned home Sunday night just in time to scare off a burglar bent on looting his home.

Weingarten said the burglar, who escaped with only an empty suitcase, scuttled off without taking any of the many valuable articles located throughout his house at 318 Via Altamira.

Investigating officers found that a window screen had been cut and a window forced open by the prowler.

VICTOR MORENO, one of the premier danseurs with Panaieff's "Ballet Concerto," appearing at Chi Chi Thursday evening, March 6, in a single performance, benefiting the Desert Museum and Art Center, is a native of Argentina, where he was star of the famous Teatro Colon Opera House Ballet at Buenos Aires. Rejecting an offer from Serge Lifar for the Paris Opera, he came to the United States in 1950. After touring South and Central America and Mexico with Nana Gollner and Paul Petroff, he was a featured soloist with the Ballet Russe for five years, and appeared as solo dancer at the Radio City Music Hall in New York many times.

Michael Panaieff Company Is Dance League of Nations

The Michael Panaieff "Ballet Concerto" Company, which appears at Chi Chi for a single performance on Thursday evening, March 6, benefiting the Desert Museum and Desert Art Center, is a "Dance League of Nations," for represented by its star ballerinas and danseurs are Russia, Greece, Holland, South America, Italy and the United States.

Panaieff himself was born in Novgorod, Russia, of an English mother and Russian father, his family escaping to Yugoslavia during the revolution.

LILA ZALI WAS born in Tiflis, Greece, but was raised in Washington, D. C., and New York. Both her father and mother were famous opera stars in Russia. She is married to Kolia Leviene, the famous cellist. She was a soloist in the Mordkin Ballet and Original Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, and has danced on CBS television in Colgate Comedy Hour, Pacific Telephone Show and others.

Anna Cheselka was born in New York, but went to Europe to become a prima ballerina. She studied with the famous partner of Pavlova, Michael Mordkin, and became soloist in the Marquis de Cuevas Ballet Company, and star of the London Festival Ballet. She returned to this country as ballerina with the Ballet Theatre company.

JOYCE VANDERVEEN was born in Amsterdam, Holland. Talented musically, she played violin concertos with the children's orchestra at the Amsterdam Conservatory when she was ten years old. At 13 she won a scholastic award for her poetry, and at 14 her beauty adorned many covers of Dutch magazines.

After becoming a dancer, she went to Paris and joined the Marquis de Cuevas company, and played stage roles at the Comedie Francaise. Film roles in Rome followed. Coming to the United States, she was engaged by Universal Studios, and became a member of "Ballet Concerto" company. In private life she is Mrs. Louis Blaine, who heads the publicity department of Universal Studios.

VERA LEE, who is a native of Seattle, has had a brilliant career in dancing on stage, screen and in television. She recently returned to Los Angeles after a year in the "My Fair Lady" company in New York.

Victor Moreno was born in Argentina, and began his career at the famous Theatre Colon Opera House in Buenos Aires. He was featured soloist with the Ballet Russe for five years, and has appeared many times at Radio City Music Hall in New York as star soloist.

ADRIANO VITALE was born in Rome, Italy, where he studied at the Opera Ballet School and became Premier Danseur of the Rome Opera, then appeared in all the leading opera houses in Italy, later in Berlin and Vienna. He was the first dancer of Boris Kniaseff's Ballet in Paris, then went to the Buenos Aires Opera Company. He was with Ballet Theatre for two seasons, and the first dancer of the Metropolitan Opera Company for three seasons. These and a dozen other virtuoso dancers will present an outstanding entertainment evening at Chi Chi on Thursday.

Tickets are available at Chi Chi, the Desert Museum or Desert Art Center.

new blue Chevron Supreme

Your car steps ahead to a new performance level... with new blue Chevron Supreme's unique blend of proved power ingredients:

Blue aviation anti-knock fluid... designed to put extra power in aircraft engines. Standard was first to adapt it to the highway to give your car more power... and vaporize deposits to lengthen engine life.

Blended with special high-octane aircraft gasoline elements. New refining techniques at Standard now release these high-power aircraft fuel elements to meet the critical octane needs of today's high-compression engines.

Plus "Detergent-Action" Compound... developed by Standard to clean your carburetor while you drive. Prevents dirt in the air from depositing in the fuel system, wasting power and gasoline.

The result is a balanced super gasoline, road-tested for thousands of hours on new '58's, on late models, on older models with high-compression engines. Mile after mile, new blue Chevron Supreme delivered all-around driving satisfaction that ordinary premiums just can't touch!

Take the big step ahead today. Stop at the new blue pump for new blue Chevron Supreme. Another fine S.O. product to give you...

It's Time to Put Post Office Department on Self Supporting Basis

It is high time that sound measures are taken to put the federal Post Office Department on a self supporting basis and thus eliminate the tremendous annual deficits which the nation's taxpayers have been called upon to meet for many years past.

The proposed increase in postal rates on first class mail to four cents for local mail and five cents for outgoing letters, along with other rate increases, is a step in that direction but is at best only a partial solution.

Increased revenue is only half the answer. Corrective action must also be taken to put an end to the huge losses sustained each year on the handling of certain classes of mail.

Principal reason the Post Office Department has not operated at a profit is because of the ridiculously low rate for third class matter commonly known as rubbish.

Such "junk," usually addressed to occupant or boxholder, not only clogs the mails and interferes with better distribution of first class mail, but places an extra heavy burden on all postal employees and a stupendous daily cost to the entire Postal Department throughout the nation.

One has only to look in the wastebaskets at any post office to see that the great bulk of such unwanted matter is not even opened by the recipient. Such mailings are a nuisance which the public would gladly be rid of. Also, they are almost a complete loss of money to the sender.

Considering the costs involved to the postal department and the annoyance caused to the recipients, the suggestion of one Congressman that such blanket mailings be charged for at double the first class rate is quite well taken.

While the higher first class rates are proposed only for a three year period, it is quite probable that they will be continued for a long time to come unless definite steps are taken meanwhile to cut down present losses on low rate postage.

It is to be hoped that this phase of the postal deficit will be given a thorough going over to the end that the users of first class mail are no longer penalized by paying for losses on the handling of low rate and unwanted circular matter.

The Business of S. & K., Inc.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Scaremonger & Knock-knees, Inc., a firm of Washington ghost writers, have been doing a land office business since the sputnik flew. The White House has become this firm's best client.

"Y-y-yes, indeed," said S. S. Scaremonger, the senior partner whose terrifying tales often frighten himself. "After that foreign aid message we wrote for President Eisenhower I felt like taking refuge in Costa Rica or some other strong, brave, self-sufficient nation. The United States of America has become weak, pusillanimous and is suffering an Oedipus complex for Mother Europe. But—why should I repeat myself? You heard it all in the President's address to Congress on foreign aid."

BY A CRUEL coincidence, the President gave his scaremongering script to Congress only two days before the annual reading in the Senate of Washington's Farewell Address. Some difference!

Mr. Eisenhower spoke of a "beleaguered America." He said that we must spend $3.9 billion in foreign aid this year. "For the safety of our families, the future of our children and our continued existence as a nation..." On the other hand, George Washington, another soldier-President, said:

"P-P-LEASE," said Scaremonger. "In times like this it is almost a subversive act to spread old-fashioned American self-confidence. We might get complacent or something. Besides, leadership is one of those things which we are trying to 'modernize' in Washington. An American leader no longer relies on the people. He must scare them into action."

"No big appropriation bill has passed Congress for two decades without the totalitarian tactics of terrorism behind it. We fought the depression, fought Hitler, fought the Japs, subsidized most of our enterprises—all in the name of fear."

GOOD BUSINESS for ghosts! Not only did the former five-star Supreme Commander make frightening noises at the only nation on earth which never lost a war, but the new Secretary of Defense, Neil McElroy, did a little teeth-chattering, too.

"McElroy was my client," said Kraven K. Knock-knees, the junior partner. "While the President shivered over the aid bill, I had the Pentagon chief trembling over the trade bill. McElroy told the House Ways and Means Committee that 'our future military power' had a direct relation to the proposed 5-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. He said our 'collective security,' meaning reliance on other countries requires extension of the 1934 trade agreements."

THERE WERE others, Commerce Secretary Weeks was quivering in a pretty incredible attempt to show that 4.5 million American workers might lose their jobs if the trade bill failed of passage.

Secretary Benson was quivering on the note that we cannot keep on raising and dumping farm surpluses unless we keep the foreign market open. Right down through the Cabinet and into the halls of Congress you hear the clients of Scaremonger & Knock-knees gibbering with simulated fear. They are force-feeding the American public on highly-publicized cowardice.

"NOT ONLY THE Cabinet,"

said S. C. Scaremonger. "Did you see that speech I ghosted for Ralph Cordiner, chairman of the Defense Advisory Committee? He said the 'real issue' of the military pay-raise is 'national survival. Russia will get us if we don't hike military pay.' 'And not only the Congress.' K. K. Knock-knees broke in eagerly. "Did you see the supercolossal production on foreign aid by my client, Eric Johnston? He had a group of celebrities all speaking for foreign aid in the name of 'national security.' Russia will get us if we don't subsidize the Hottentots."

THERE IS A REASON why the firm of S. & K. is working harder than ever this year. It is not really because of the sputniks, although they make a convenient excuse. When foreign aid started with Lend-Lease, we were told that only the Europeans could save us from Germany. When so-called reciprocal trade started in 1934, we were told that it would cure our depression.

No, if the Communists would disband and the sputniks would fall, the firm of S. & K. would still find clients in and near the seat of government. It is always easier to appeal to the fears of ignorance than to the logic of wisdom. Demagoguery is the curse of democracy.

But the continued appeal to fear and ignorance is like the continued tugging on an elastic band, or the continued straining of a tired heart. Each year it becomes harder to arouse the American people and Congress through fear. Some day the quality of resilience wears out. There comes a collapse. How much longer can Americans be activated by terror? Who knows?—

Holmes Alexander.

Dear Abby...

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: I was so glad to see a letter printed in your column telling the person not to be ashamed of her brother who was in a mental institution. I am in a mental institution (state-operated) and I'm proud to say that my family isn't ashamed of me. They visit me and make me feel like a human being instead of a criminal. Some of my friends here are not so fortunate. I can tell you this—if the families of mental patients ignore them, the patients will never get well. The doctors can do just so much for them but if their families don't make them feel loved and wanted, the mental patient will just rot in the institution. This letter will be censored as all out-going mail is. I hope they let me send it. If I see it in print I will bless you in my prayers because it might give a lot of relatives something to think about.

A MENTAL PATIENT
DEAR PATIENT: One of the many rewards of writing this column is being able to print your letter.

DEAR ABBY: A serviceman

needs your help. When I get home this summer I plan to have a full military wedding. I think it will look nice to have them all (the wedding party) in uniform, but in order to do this I will have to overlook some members of my family. I have two brothers (not in service) and also some male cousins I have grown up with. Should I ask my service buddies to be in the wedding party because of their uniforms or should I mix it up and have my family?

"A SERVICE MAN"
DEAR MAN: By all means, forget about the way it looks and have your family. People will forget how "it looked" but your family (if slighted) would never forget how it felt.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and go with a guy who is 18. He doesn't have a very good reputation but he never got out of line with me once. He also goes with another girl besides me. She has a TERRIBLE reputation. Everyone says that he only goes with her because she lets him have everything he wants. Do you think I ought to go with him?

CAROLE
DEAR CAROLE: Stay away from a boy who also goes with a girl because "she lets him have everything he wants." He might forget which girl he's with.

DEAR ABBY: I am a sixteen-year-old girl who is having an affair with a married man who is 25. Would you please tell me (seriously) what would happen to us if we got caught? Would he still get the worst of it even if this was my idea and with my consent? Thank you. SERIOUS

DEAR SERIOUS: You are under-age, and he certainly would be in serious trouble. So would you, young lady. Break up this twosome before it becomes a triangular tragedy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SHRINER'S WIFE: Forget it. He's just going through a faze.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

In like a lion,
Out like a lamb,
But if it doesn't
Then I'd better scam.

March, that is.
The next few weeks should provide typical Palm Springs weather: beautiful.

THAT'S BECAUSE, as long as I can remember, and that's a long time, people have been saying that if March comes in like a lion, it will go out like a lamb—and vice versa.

And it was not exactly mild like a lamb when it came in. Wild but not woolly.

So, the end of March, if the old cliché holds good, will be great. Then there is April and, Ah, May.

ONE OF MY READERS, the one with the blond hair, tells me that the wild flowers are out early. So you people who complain about the rains, sit down.

The primroses are out and, as a rare thing, there are Lupinus bluing up the desert down Palm Desert way. Lupinus are rare in the desert area, my friend tells me.

In a couple of weeks, the desert should be a mass of color, she says.

THEREFORE, it is a good thing that the new Banning bypass has been built.

Remember the traffic jams the last time the desert bloomed like crazy?

Took two hours or more to get through Banning because so many people from the coastal areas wanted to come to the desert to see the wild flowers.

AND WHEN they got here, they picked them. Dug them out by the roots to take home to plant despite the advice that they wouldn't grow.

Some self-appointed guardians of the desert used to ride around and when they saw people plucking the wild flowers, went up to them solemnly and said: "Be careful, look out for snakes."

That made most of the city folks high-tail it back to their cars.

J. J. HILL, (not the man who bullied the Great Northern Railroad through, but 'Red' Hill of the Town and Country) has an idea for a slogan for cocktail lounges and other places where they dispense potent beverages.

Looking around at the display of offerings he had to purvey, he said:

"I should put up a sign outside: 'Come in and consume with the spirits.'"

MR. HILL, by the way, is known as "Thousand to One Red."

That's because he has solved the problem of the imbibers who say their martinis are not dry enough.

He just dashes a couple of drops of vermouth into the glass, sloshes it around and pours it out. Then he puts in the straight heavy ingredient.

"And if they still complain, I just slosh around one drop," he said.

Success is something that always comes faster to the man your wife almost married, says John P. Plom.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

I am in receipt of a ticket. And I do not mean to the Police and Firemen's Ball.

This ticket lists my misdemeanor: "Violation Sec. 32B Vehicle Code. Parking in illegal space."

There are spaces in the ticket for other infractions: Parking in red zones, white zones, yellow zones. Parking overtime, double parking and mopery dopery. They could not find a space for what I did.

I WAS PARKED in a no-parking zone. Or rather adjacent to a no-parking zone. The zone was in the street. I was on the sidewalk. The reason I was on the sidewalk was WHEN I parked there, there was another car in the street. What about that, officer? How about an all-points bulletin on that bum? The one that got away.

PARKING LAWS, it seems to me, have made criminals out of many of us who would prefer to tread the straight and narrow.

There is no place I know where you can park legally. For long anyway.

If it is not a 45-minute zone, it has a parking meter. Feed the parking meter or go to jail. The zone is white, green, red or yellow. It is "no parking between here and the corner." It is a bus stop or taxi zone.

WHEN THE JOHNNY Nabs find a place with no laws, they immediately put up temporary signs: "No parking this side of the street today, P.D."

The other day I parked in a lot while I went into the grocery. On the wall there was a sign: "Free parking for Safeway customers." Below that was another sign: "Parking between midnight and 6 a.m. prohibited by Police Department." Well!

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By LICHTY

"I mean while your car was moving. Have you been stopped for speeding?"

"No, er."

"You have never gone through a red light while some Sneaky Pete on a motorcycle was watching around the corner?"

"That is against the law!" I said shocked.

THE LADY SIGHED. "So many rascals are loose in the world. We must ask these questions. Then you have no trouble with the law?"

"Trouble with the law? I have nothing but trouble with the law. I am constantly getting parking tickets and..."

"Oh, those," said the lady. "Everybody gets those."

IT IS VERY BAD, I gather, to get pinched for moving violations. Therefore I try not to move. I park. What happens? Slap, under the windshield wiper. "You are ordered to appear..."

If everybody tried to obey the law like I do, everybody would be moving and this would cause thousands of moving violations. They would have to remodel the three-wheelers into two-wheelers. And you could not hurt yourself think for the sirens.

A GOOD MANY people park in parking lots. A parking lot is a sort of bird sanctuary. No cop dare enter or we will take away his ball point permit.

However, you must get up mighty early in the morning to get into a parking lot. Most parking lots have signs on them: "Sorry, full." Then I go over and park on the sidewalk and run like blazes.

EARL WILSON: Even Hotel Owners Smile Now

MIAMI BEACH — Florida's now had four straight days of beautiful weather, and will stand for no insults from Californians about long underwear here in the sunny south.

Overnight, people are happy. Jokes about the weather, bad taste last week, now are all right. Dean Martin, starring at the Americana, says, "I came to Florida eight years ago for arthritis. I finally got it yesterday."

The warm weather's got people doing strange things.

Comedian Joe E. Lewis, who has a couple of weeks off, went to see Dean Martin, and got up on the stage.

"Here they are again," boomed Dean, "—Martin and Lewis!"

"I noticed Dean Martin taking a drink up here on stage," Joe E. said. "I don't like that. Dean drinks in his act. Frank Sinatra drinks in his act. They're all stealing my stuff—even Sarah Churchill's doing it."

Milton Berle's got such a sensational show at the Latin 14 that a nude showgirl in a shower is hardly noticed.

Milton pays tribute to one-time TV contemporary Red Buttons: "I saw Red in 'Sayonara' and I cried—because I wasn't in it."

Miami Beach had the worst weather in 33 years. Hotels say this year is a loser. But Larry Solloway, reporter for Variety, the show business paper, says:

"They're not losing money. They're only losing profits."

Even a few higher-type hotels have been paying "turkey" to cab drivers (commission for steering customers their way).

"They give us the first day's room rent, and if the party stays two weeks we get two days' rent," a hackie willingly explained.

"I had one party that got a $30-a-day room and stayed for five weeks. I picked up $150."

This cabbie said if he had many customers like that he could afford to go someplace where it was warm.

Actually, "this year's hotel" is the $9,000,000 DuPont-Tarleton over in Miami, operated by Walter Jacobs, and just now opened.

It's beautifully done, with hi-fi radios, a yacht basin, million-dollar bars and dining rooms, stealable objects d'art, and "message lights" on your room telephone.

If you have a message, a red light so informs you.

Just everybody seems to be here—including Marie McDonald, us—

HOLLYWOOD—Gary Crosby's Army boss, WAC Sgt. Elsie Davis, accompanied him to Paris from their base in Stuttgart, Germany. COULD he be married his Sergeant? ... Bing's oldest son, incidentally, gets out of the Army in May but plans staying abroad for some civilian singing stints in England ere reporting back to the U. S. for reserve duty.

Darryl Zanuck signed Trevor Howard for the leading role (the one Bill Holden wanted but couldn't have because Paramount refused to loan him out for it) in "Roots of Heaven," and Paul Lukas looms likeliest for the "Saint Denis" role, same picture.

TOMMY SANDS sings up a storm but doesn't feel he's much of an actor, yet so he'll audition March 18 for admittance to the Actors' Studio, which has turned out such fine actors as Marlon Brando and Paul Newman. ... Spencer Tracy, reunited with director John Ford for the first time, since they made the hilarious "Up the River" in 1930, tells me his role in Ford's "The Last Hurrah" may be his last for the movies.

MATTER OF FACT, Spence put it this way: "The Last Hurrah" will be MY last hurrah too—and just to show you what an optimist Ford is, I'm supposed to have a heart attack in the picture, so John is saving the scene for the last day of shooting!"

Jeff Hunter also in "Hurrah," is surrounded by a cast of old-timers—Tracy, Jimmy Gleason, Pat O'Brien, Donald Crisp, Edmund Lowe, Ricardo Cortez, Donald Keith and Wally Ford, among others. "But," but Jeff, "I'm a John Ford graduate too—I did 'The Searchers' for him—so doesn't that make me the youngest oldtimer?"

CLIPPED FROM Kim Novak on the "Bell, Book and Candle" set: "I'm off the lavender kick. I'm having my bedroom painted all white" ... Cecil B. DeMille has seen his own movie, "The Ten Commandments," 202 times to date. I asked why and he why'd right back: "Why not—after all, I've read the Bible more than once!"

Elvis Presley's diversions between scenes on Paramount's "King Creole" set include beating out Cole Porter tunes on a baby grand piano and teaching Carolyn Jones and Lilian Chauvin how to bump-&-grind.

IT WON'T BE EASY to win sympathy for the series, public resistance to the tax collector when what it is, but Lloyd Nolan, who plays an Internal Revenue agent in his upcoming Special Agent No. 7, has faith that with proper emphasis and careful writing and planning, his role as a T-Man can wind up atop the Trenches.

So now everything's wonderful. The women are unusually beautiful—they're all wearing money. Dave Barry claims the hotels all have TV in every room—"A sign," he explains, "that says 'Tourists Welcome.'"

Marines Give $25,000 For Hi-Desert TV

A check for $25,000 was officially presented to Mrs. F. H. Brink, president of the Morongo Basin T. V. Club, Inc., by Brig. Gen. R. M. Victory, commander, Marine Corps Base, Twenty-nine Palms, at ceremonies held in the base commander's office.

The check, presented in behalf of the Marine Corps Base, was to help subsidize funds for the installing and maintaining of a television rebroadcasting facility in the Hi-Desert area.

THE $25,000 donation received at MCB early last month, was a gift from Marine Corps' non-appropriated funds, obtained through profits of exchanges and recreational activities.

Official presentation of the check at the time pending the granting of a TV license by the Federal Communications Commission.

FCC GRANTED the license to the Morongo Basin TV Club, Inc., on Feb. 12, according to a long distance call received from Congressman Harry R. Sheppard by J. Buren Briggs, editor of the Desert Trail, a weekly publication in Twenty-nine Palms.

Close co-ordination and co-operation between the Marine Corps Base and this inland desert community in making clear vision in this area a reality.

Warning Issued On New Law On Withholding

Robert A. Riddell, district director of Internal Revenue for Southern California, today stated that a new law, signed very recently by President Eisenhower, provides criminal penalties in certain cases in which employers fail to pay over promptly to the Government amounts which they are required to withhold from the salaries and wages of their employees on income and social security taxes.

Riddell said that, although the great majority of employers fully comply with this requirement, the Government continually is faced with the problem of a relatively few employers who fail to promptly pay over such taxes.

The new law makes it a criminal offense for any employer who is delinquent in paying over the social security and income taxes withheld from his employees, after notice has been served upon him in accordance with its provisions, to fail to deposit these taxes, within two banking days after their collection, in a trust for the United States. Non-compliance can result in penalties of both fine and imprisonment.

"THIS SPECIAL ISSUE of the 'California Real Estate Magazine' will serve as a valuable reference for everyone interested in California real estate for many years to come," Graham said.

It was announced that thousands of extra copies of the magazine have been distributed to all of the governmental offices throughout the state as well as to all of the California legislators and other public offices and libraries where the magazine will be of use.

CREA Publishes Special Issue Of Publication

The California Real Estate Association this month published a special issue of its monthly publication, the "California Real Estate Magazine," featuring the California State Division of Real Estate, it was announced by Clive Graham of Long Beach, president of the 26,000-member association.

The magazine contains 25 pages of information on the operation of the State Division of Real Estate which is headed by Fred W. Griesinger of Arcadia, real estate commissioner.

THE FIRST REAL estate law was enacted in 1917 providing for the licensing and regulation of real estate brokers and salesmen. This was the first law of its kind in the United States and it has since served as a pattern for similar legislation in many other states.

Articles in the magazine describe the operation of the various departments of the division including law enforcement, examinations, licensing, hearings, publications, subdivisions and mortgage broker laws. It also contains a history of the California real estate law including all of the major amendments, bringing it up to date with those passed in the 1957 session of the legislature.

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN
The Monday night "Bonus" party at Shadow Mountain Club was crowded as usual. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Vincent and Mrs. Vern Nittinger hosted a dinner party for their friends who were with them on their Oriental cruise last year. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lykken, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Witt, Mr. and Mrs. Val Quiddback, Harry Paxton and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Fritz.

Miss Edith Eddy Ward also hosted a party of twelve guests. Others seen here and there were the Telford Thomsons, Ralph Caplingers, Mrs. Frances Davy, Mrs. Robert Books, Mrs. Belle Keightley, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carpenter Jr., and many more.

The Sun Lodge Colony has had guests coming and going all this month. Mr. and Mrs. James Burton have returned from a short trip to Spokane and will be here the balance of the season. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Olds, Fred Andrews, O. J. Oshiers and the Robert Fithians come to the desert every weekend.

The Shadow Mountain Woman's Golf Association held its monthly luncheon and business meeting on Monday. This group has many interesting plans for March — the outstanding event will be their annual Match Play.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pollard have been entertaining house guests the past ten days from Seattle, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ruffcorn. The Ruffcorns have planned to make Palm Desert their permanent home.

He and Mr. Pollard were former business partners. Mr. Ruffcorn's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pigott and their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harrison, are guests at the Palm Desert Lodge.

Other guests at the Lodge are Mr. and Mrs. Louis SeLegue of Flintridge, Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Redlin and family of Elm Grove, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Odle of Seattle, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Duddard of Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Edwin Gallant of San Bernardino hosted a large luncheon of the Officers Wives Club at Shadow Mountain Club. Bridge was enjoyed after lunch.

Another Monday Night "Fun" party at Shadow Mountain Club was "Guess the name of the Song." Dick Kite, well known singer, emceed the program as well as singing a few songs himself.

State Receives 12 Bids For Banning Landscaping

The low bid of $27,345 for landscaping approximately 2.7 miles of U. S. Highway 60-70-99 in the City of Banning was submitted by Hammer Company, Inc., of Santa Monica, Clyde V. Kane, District Engineer of the State Division of Highways in San Bernardino, announced.

Henry C. Soto Corporation of Los Angeles was second with a bid of $27,965, while the third bid in the amount of $28,643 was received from Harris and Farnham Company of Del Paso Heights, California. Twelve bids were received, and all are being taken under advisement by C. M. Gilliss, Director of Public Works.

APPROXIMATELY 3,000 shrubs, mostly watermelon red oleander, and 1,200 trees, mostly Jerusalem thorn, will be planted on this project. The contractor will install approximately 30,000 feet of water pipe which will be required to provide water for the shrubs and trees.

This landscaping is a cooperative project with the Interclub Freeway Beautification Committee, a group of service clubs and civic organizations of the City of Banning, contributing one thousand dollars through the City of Banning toward the cost of this project.

WATER FOR establishment and maintenance of the plants is being furnished by the City of Banning. The contractor will be allowed approximately seven months to complete the work, and during his operations traffic will be permitted to pass through the construction area at all times with as little inconvenience and delay as possible.

TRUMPET-PLAYING Billy Allen, above, and his orchestra begin their sixth month of musicmaking at El Mirador Hotel this week. It's one of the longest runs ever enjoyed by a musical aggregation at the famed desert spa and is testimony of their ability as crowd pleasers. Allen's sparkling rhythms are on tap at El Mirador's popular Sunday Brunch and nightly in the Kiva Room. He's a worthy colleague of Singing Troubadour Tex Kidwell, the hotel's entertainment director. Londoner Has Made Fortune Off Men Who Walk in Peril

By PAT HERMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, (AP)—Meek, mild-mannered Leonard Barrett has made his fame and modest fortune off men who walk in danger. Armored vests are his stock in trade.

But he also has made a bullet-proof girdle for Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, thousands of anti-shrapnel "flak pants" for the U.S. Air Force, and steel trousers for an intrepid big game hunter who wanted the thrill of chasing lions on foot.

"I haven't yet been approached on making space suits," said the gaunt-faced, eagle-eyed Londoner, who has been making armor for the Wilkinson Sword Company for the past 40 years.

"BUT NOT EVEN Sputniks affect this business."

"You see, even in peacetime, plenty of people need personal protection. And I keep a pretty good business providing it."

Barrett, in a conservative black checked suit and tie to match his British reserve, looked like the typical English office clerk who abhors violence. Yet violence is his business.

He was more adept at talking about armor even than about the English weather. Then mention of bullet proof vests made his serious eyes shine.

"DID YOU KNOW that there were more armored waistcoats vests worn in the last war than ever before in history?" he asked as he sipped a cup of tea.

"Why, I made 15,000 of them for the American Eighth Air Force at the special request of Brig. Gen. Malcolm C. Grove during World War II. The American B17 boys thought that nothing could hit them. But they did not figure on shrapnel."

BARRETT SAID that his lightweight flak suits were completely shrapnel and bullet proof. The U.S. Air Force surgeon general's office backed this up.

FIRST PRIZE for best costumes at the Rose Float Ball went to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dunlevie, who were dressed as a Viking and a lady of Medieval England. (El Mirador Photo by Conrad Hug.)

Jaycee-Ettes Planning Two Social Affairs

Conversation at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Jaycee-Ettes at the home of Bubbles Schlesinger at 2749 Livmore Avenue, centered about their forthcoming card party and the Jaycee Hard Times party.

The card party is for the women only and will be held in March at the home of Norma Smith, chairman for this event. Her committee members are Norma Huffman, Elaine Land and Marge Wasserman.

Chairman for the Hard Times party, to be held April 19, is Flo Ambler and serving on her committee are Ruth Hayes, Roz Bronstein, Barbara Mutascio, Marcel Esbitt, Lynn Wexler, Norma Smith and Doris Redman.

A five member nominating committee was named to choose a sale for the election in April. On the nominating committee are Pat Wahlberg, Chris Ranes, Norma Huffman, Barbara Mutascio and Bubbles Schlesinger.

Special guests for the evening were Betty Strebe and Betty Bergeron who is a new member.

Following the meeting, refreshments of French pastries, cake and coffee were served.

A meat thermometer should be inserted into the center of the thick muscle of a roast. If it touches bone or fat, it will not register the true temperature.

Jimmie Rogers Bernard Unveiled as Mystery Queen At Gala Rose Float Ball

With Leo Carillo as master of ceremonies, the Rose Float Ball at El Mirador Friday night was a brilliant affair that raised money for a Palm Springs entry in the 1959 Rose Tournament Parade and was highlighted by the unveiling of the Mystery Rose Queen.

The Rose Queen made two appearances at the Ball, coming in first wearing a glamorous golden bathing suit and the shelding, drooping hat of red satin rose petals that she's worn for publicity shots and public appearances.

When she came back, wearing a long, narrow green satin gown, like the stem of an American Beauty Rose, Leo Carillo removed her mask to disclose Jimmy Rogers Bernard, well-known horse woman and daughter of Willie and Trav Rogers. Of all the guessers registered, Mrs. Earl Henderson was the only one to correctly guess the identity of the Rose Queen, and she won a desert painting.

Numerous cocktail parties all over town, preceded the Ball which was late in starting, but by 11 o'clock the big El Mirador Room was well-filled and the dance floor was crowded with colorful costumed figures. Except for a few tables, most of the guests were in costume.

Picturesque were Ernie and Taylor Dunlevie, who won first prize. He was a red-wigged Viking, with flowing cane horned helmet and carrying a spear, and red-haired Taylor was beautiful in a velvet Medieval gown with fitted habit and turned-up hat with veil. Another amazing couple were the Earl Hendersons. Helen was almost unrecognizable in her becoming Chinese robes, and she wore a big black wig with flowering branches stuck in it, and long, curling eyelashes.

Mrs. Charles Mendelson was "Miss France" in an intriguing black outfit with huge black hat, and teamed with Jack Fugitt, as the turbaned Prince, to win a prize.

Other prize winners included Dr. and Mrs. George Milkie as a pair of clowns, Judith Parker as a nautch dancing girl, Bob Press as a Royal Guardsman and Joanne Dorfman as the Queen's Costume judges were: Leo Carillo, Ray Ryan, Bill Smith, Sophie Sturtevant, Earl Cordrey, Mr. and Mrs. William Bassichis, Trav Rogers.

Entertainment presented the Guadalajara Boys from the Doll House, dancers from Arthur Murray studio, George Kainapau and his Island Serenaders from the South Pacific Room, and dancing was to Billy Allen's orchestra.

Following the Grand March and the awarding of the prizes, there was a midnight buffet, and at 1 a.m. the party was still going strong with Frank Bogert auctioning off dozens of handsome gifts donated by Palm Springs Merchants, to help raise money so Palm Springs can have a float in the 1959 Rose Tournament Parade.

Flags of all nations circled the orchestra shell to set the decor for the Ball and its costumed merry-makers who represented so many of the counties around the globe.

Committee chairmen for the event, co-chairedman by Peggy Dexter, Anita Haskell Jones and Laura Grapevine, were: entertainment, Roy Randolph, Tex Kidwell, Molly Kenaston; decorations and booths, Elsie Adde, Grace Weatherford; masks and gifts, Buddy Simon, Elizabeth Merry Miller; posters, Ann Randolph, Ethelrita Pine, Sophie Sturtevant, Olman Travel Bureau, Sam Black, Nellie Coffman Junior High School art class; United Nations Flags, Mrs. Leo Spitz; publicity, Graham Dexter; tickets, Don Botorff; costumes, Tanya Duane; garden display, Neel's Nursery; transportation, Bill Maidhof, Charles Valentino, Stack Chevrolet.

Hostesses for the evening were: Lynne Jennings, Bettie Lacy, Winsome Courtney, Taylor Dunlevie, Adelaide Cunningham, Peggy Bull, Marge Bowers, Maxine Gerhart, Kitten Ferrar, Isabelle Cameron. Dozens of Palm Springs shops donated gifts to be sold, auctioned off or given away as prizes for this civic project.

For Lent Try Clam Linguini

For a thrifty but delicious Lenten meal, here's an Italian specialty—linguini with clam sauce.

For the sauce, cook 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine until tender. Blend in 2 tablespoons flour, add liquid from one 10½-ounce can minced clams, and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens.

Add drained clams, one 1-pound can tomatoes, 2 tablespoons chopped chives, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and salt and pepper to taste.

Serve over 1 pound linguini (or thin spaghetti) which has been cooked until tender in 4½ quarts of boiling water with 2 tablespoons salt added.

Makes 6-8 portions.

Use Ingenuity

Use what you have on hand to make a handsome dinner table, says the designer Vera Neumann. Vera, long known in the home decorating field for fabrics and in the fashion world for scarves, suggested these table tips:

Fill a handsome water pitcher with pines and other greens for a centerpiece. Or, a tray in place of an elaborate bowl. If you have no tray to show off, cover a kitchen one with layers of red or green piliotam. Then heap it with candies and fruits, which have been wrapped in various colored foil papers, and with nuts in their shells.

"Don't clutter the table," said Vera. "Use candles if the occasion is after five o'clock."

"Avoid fancy candles and fancy nut and candy holders. Maybe old, forgotten small dishes from your cupboard will do the trick."

"After all, the food is the most important part of the occasion."

Vera, however, is an advocate of bold colors for table covers.

One of her favorites is a bold red linen cloth, with border of printed metallic gold antique coins. With this, she uses polished brass candelabra and a long, shallow brass bowl filled with low-lying sprigs of fresh pine, and heaped with assorted nuts, all in their shells.

Freshen artificial flowers by brushing each petal with a damp sponge dipped in plastic starch. Press with warm iron and shape petals while still damp. Trim frayed edges with scissors.

Flemings Hosts at Big Dinner

Around 100 guests gathered in El Mirador's Starlight Patio for cocktails followed by a black tie, sit down dinner in a private diningroom Saturday night at the party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fleming of La Jolla and Palm Springs.

The party celebrated the birthdays of the hostess and Jack French, who was an honored guest. The joint birthday celebration has been a custom of several years standing.

Clusters of pink balloons hung from the ceiling of the private diningroom, where the long tables, covered with pink cloths, were set up in a U-shape.

Two birthday cakes, iced in white and decorated with big red roses, were brought in, accompanied by Tex Kidwell and his guitar leading the "Happy Birthday" song.

Guests included Messrs. and Mmes. Jack French, Al Hunt, Co Thornton, James Kemper, Hathaway Kemper, Fred Albertson, John Dollard, George Roberson, Frank Stauffer, Irving Snyder, Henry Ryan, Billy Malouf, Oliver Rousseau, Thayer Raggio, Howard Morris, Walter Sibbert, Walter Braunschweiger, Harold Cooper, John Costello, George Wheeler, S. P. Manasse, Walter Brummark, Stewart Williams, Ben Shearer, Earl Pound, Norm Waters, William Tackett, Paul Reynolds, Clay McDonald of La Jolla.

Also: Bud Fleming, Leo Owens, Pierre Bouscaren, Jock Williamson, Vivian Davies, B. J. Sanchez, Norma Kendall, and others.

Sea Food Buffet at Big Party

One of the most beautiful buffets ever arranged by that master chef Gerhard Knaak was the sea-food buffet at the Sunday night party hosted by the Ned Crawfords of Portland...

Guests gathered for cocktails in El Mirador's Starlight Patio and the buffet was set up in the adjoining private diningroom. A mammoth ice sculpture of a sea-horse dominated the table that was laden with all kinds of sea-food from the Pacific Northwest. There were giant shells filled with tiny Olympia oysters, oysters on the half shell, deviled oysters, giant Alaskan crab, lobsters, whole salmon, hot casseroles of lobster newburgh, shrimp, crab legs, whole trout cooked European style. Lending atmosphere to the big table were nets and shells, an anchor, and a scattering of narcissus.

Former Villagers the Crawfords who went to Portland to settle the estate of her mother Hildamae Jensen, widow of the movie theatre magnate bought an estate there and have made it their home and this was their first visit back to Palm Springs in over two years.

Among the 100-some guests at their "glad-to-be-back-in-Palm Springs" party were the Bob Kenastons, Mayor and Mrs. Jerry Sanborn, Gus Kettmann, Edith and Dick Edwards, the Earl Hendersons, Julie Taurag, Claire Windsor, Sewell Bradley and Grace Pope, Berniece Beckman, Ed Hogan, Mrs. Graham Dexter, Ray Blumenthals, the Waltah Clarkes, Sidney Adelstein, the Tony Paddens, the Russ Wades, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Simon, the hostess's grandfather Steve Blake of Desert Hot Springs, the Sam Sontags, Dr. and Mrs. B. H. Poliak, the Walter Flynns, Paula Reynolds of Portland, and Portlanders Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schwabe, who drove down for the party.

The Desert Sun Tuesday, March 4, 1958 9

Now it can be told . . . that although the Eisenhowers couldn't make it to Palm Springs . . . the President's secretary Mary Jane McCaffrey could and did . . . She and her husband Dr. Floyd McCaffrey left yesterday . . . after enjoying a fortnight's sunshine and relaxation at Desert Air Hotel . . . Many Villagers met Mary Jane when she was here with the Presidential party three years ago . . . At that time she was secretary to the First Lady . . . Because she was here for a complete rest . . . only two small affairs were given for her during her visit . . . One was an informal tea given by Mrs. A. Ronald Button at the Buttons' Rancho Mirage home . . . and the other a small dinner hosted by Melba and Frank Bennett at their home on Camino del Mirasol . . .

The Bennet dinner guests were . . . their houseguest Mrs. Nion Tucker of Burlingame . . . the Bernard Fords, George Barretts, Bill Boggess . . . Mr. and Mrs. Roger Page of San Francisco and Thunderbird . . . and the Bill Ottos . . .

The tea given by State Treasurer and Mrs. Button included the following guests . . . the Harlan Peytons (he's Republican National committeeman for Washington), the Brayton Wilburs of San Francisco and Rancho Mirage, Benjamin B. Odells (he's president of Cathedral Films) of Burbank and Rancho Mirage, Mrs. Clyde DeVinna (widow of Sam Clemens' nephew, the noted cameraman), Hank Gogerty . . .

The patio of the Hammond house on Hermosa Place . . . was transformed into a Spanish courtyard Saturday night . . . as San Franciscans Jerri and Stewart Hopp . . . who have leased the house for the winter . . . entertained for their houseguests Millie and Bob Considine . . . The noted columnist was just here for the weekend . . . but Millie will be here for a couple of weeks . . .

Musicians were playing . . . fire blazed in the braziers . . . and palm trees and blooming flowers helped set the decor for the courtyard . . . and Spanish shawls and even a lacy ballgown and mantilla draped over the balconies . . . enhanced the feeling . . .

Guests in western clothes were served chuckwagon dinner prepared by Jack Boyer . . . Joe Spata and his trio from the Ranch Club played and sang . . .

Among the guests welcoming the Considines were Willie and Trav Rogers and their daughter Jimmie Rogers Bernard . . . Jimmie was the Mystery Rose Queen and Jerri had a beautiful rose hat made especially for her . . . Gene Raymond and his beautiful wife Jeannette MacDonald were there . . . and the Henry Untermyers . . . Hank, of course, was here for the tennis matches . . .

Others were the Claude Valeurs, Jack Kenastons, Harry Joe Browns . . . Fernand Levals, Ed Rothbarts, Ruloff Cuttens . . . William Morrisons, Raymond Loeys, Joan Bering, Elinore Machris, Ray Ryan, Pete Pettito . . . and others . . .

Special guests included Beverly and Robert Hopp . . . who with their two small daughters left Sunday after a 10-day visit here . . . and Irene Hervey . . . a houseguest of the Hopp . . .

Sunday brunch time found a group of friends gathering in the ramada at the Fred Halliday home on Crestview . . . The ramada stands in the middle of an acre or so of desertland . . . left pretty much in its primitive state so that it is a kind of bird refuge . . . There's a wide variety of desert birds take shelter there . . . and they're fat ones . . . for the Hallidays feed them all . . .

The party honored the Charles Lindemans of Seattle who are at the Desert Inn for their annual winter visit . . . which has been a way of living for them since 1932 . . .

Lindeman, veteran newspaperman and senior publisher in the Hearst organization . . . publishes the famed Post-Intelligencer . . . and he and Fred Halliday have been friends for a long time . . . They met in Brookline, Massachusetts in 1919 . . .

Brunch was served at small tables set up on the lanai . . . Guests enjoying the Hallidays' hospitality were . . . the Lindemans, Judge and Mrs. Julian Hazard and Jane's mother Franklyn and Lillian MacCarthy and their daughter Lorraine Hogan and grandson Mark, who drove down for the day . . . Bertine Treat and John Saith, the Harold Coopers, Joe Hales, Ray Shelby . . . Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cash of Claremont . . . and a few others . . .

Bruce Thomas Jr. (he's assistant personnel chief at Lockheed) and his wife were here to spend the weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Thomas Sr. . . . and went to the Village Theatre to see Ray Milland in the screen play "The Safe Cracker" which is from the novel written by the Senior Thomas . . . former foreign correspondent . . .

Good news from Bud and Vieve Graves . . . is that they have arranged a November showing of Bud's paintings . . . to be held in the John Heller Gallery on 57th Street next November . . . They are jubilant about that . . . but just as happy that they are arriving home tonight at 7:25 p.m. . . .

This has been a lively weekend . . . but one of the things I'll be telling my grandchildren is . . . that I heard Harpo talk . . . at Sunday night's concert at the Plaza Theatre . . . presented by the Palm Springs Music Society . . . was great entertainment . . . and a memorable occasion . . . It opened with the Civic Chorus doing a competent job of singing Brahms "Love Song Waltzes" . . . directed by Harry Tomlinson . . . and accompanied by Christine Tomlinson and Mary Hoover as a piano duo . . .

Different and exciting were the numbers played by Laurindo Almeida, on the guitar, and Martin Ruderman on the flute . . . Joana Graudan at the piano was backed by a chamber orchestra . . . conducted by Robert Armbruster . . .

Lending glamor to the evening was beautiful Mary Acosta . . . whose voice matches her young beauty . . . She's the one who's been chosen to play the role of Jenny Lind in the "P. T. Barnum" movie . . . She's possibly a little bigger than the great Jenny Lind . . . but looks like and sounds like a perfect choice . . .

Harpo played his harp . . . and he does it well . . . but with touches of typical Marx humor . . . like crouching behind the harp like a gorilla in a cage . . .

Harpo's the man who has never talked on stage . . . and even Murray couldn't get him to say a word . . . When Jack Benny asked him to talk . . . he started pulling sets of teeth out of his pockets and set them all around the floor and piano . . . clicking away madly . . . At the end of the program . . . he actually did talk . . . and it was a flow of long words that was pretty funny too . . . This is a man as lovable as the Australian koala . . . and as talented as they come . . .

Jack Benny, who emceed the show, played his stradivarius . . . backed up by a single accordion . . . and, despite his clowning, he plays it well . . . Telling about some of his concerts at Carnegie Hall and around the country . . . Benny said that when he gets up in front of a big orchestra of 100 to 150 pieces with a great conductor wielding the baton he feels like he would if he were stranded on a desert island with Jayne Mansfield . . . and her husband . . . "I have a feeling I'm not needed," Benny said . . .

In the audience for the concert . . . and applauding two of America's greatest showmen who were donating their services to benefit Palm Springs United Fund . . . were Mike Todd and Elizabeth Taylor . . . Claudette Colbert and her husband Dr. Joel Pressman . . . and the internationally known columnist Bob Considine and his wife Millie . . . who were guests of the Stewart Hopp . . .

Author Addresses The Writers

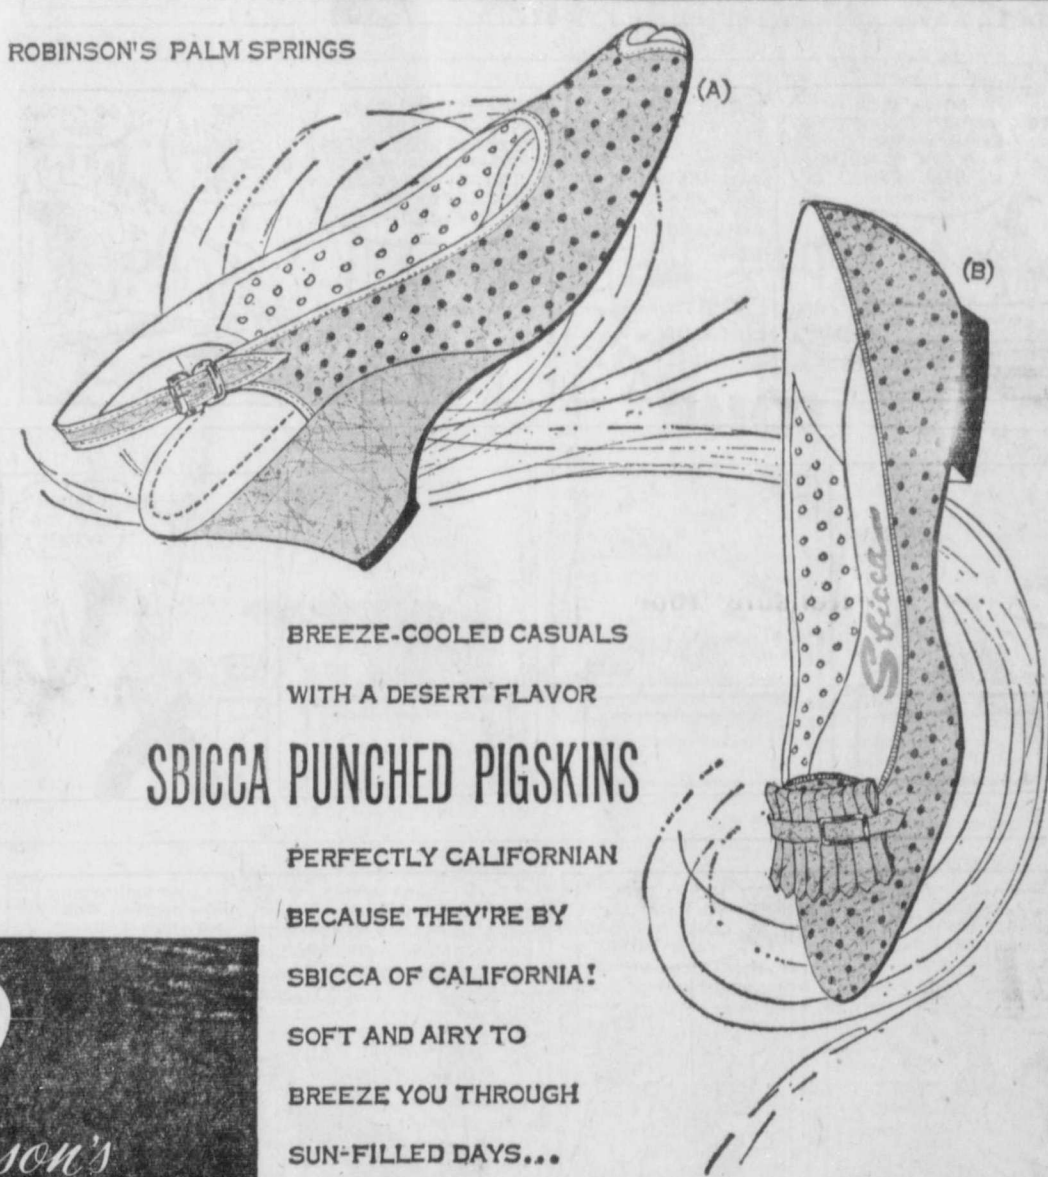

A delightfully entertained and informed Writers' Guild (capacity house) was the result of another talk by Sir Francis (Frank) Scully and the appearance for the first time before the group, of Nell Griffith Wilson, of Kenwood, California, at their regular meeting Thursday night at 19 The Plaza.

Mrs. Wilson recounted the story of the late Jack London's Dream House located in the "Valley of The Moon" in Sonoma County, California. Scully whose subject for the evening was "Who is not a Writer," reminded his listeners in his inimitable style, of the need for organization among writers to establish standards and to protect their works with properly worded contracts advancing the rights of the author; also that "most people have a story, and should write it—although some may become famous overnight—to be a writer is a long, hard and arduous task."

At the close of his talk, he generously and humorously answered many questions pertaining to his own success in writing and his recent books.

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—This could be the last trip down the big league pike for some of the old heroes.

Time's a-wastin' for many of those who have written years of baseball headlines. Not all of them will bow out on this spin of the wheel but some of them are bound to fall by the wayside this season.

They are the ones who are in the forty-ish brigade, those who are either crowding or past an age which is the other side of the baseball hill.

The senior member is Country Slaughter of the Yankees, who, 42 next month, still shows no sign of packing it in. And right on his heels in the 41 bracket are Murry Dickson of the A's, and Sal Maglie of the Yankees.

Nobody's calling it the end for Ted Williams, who will be 40 in August, but it's a brittle age where anything goes wrong could spell the finish. And Hank Bauer, at 39, doesn't have too much longer at the top.

There are a host of them in the 38 bracket. These include Early Wynn, Dixie Howell and Gerry Staley of the White Sox, Bob Lemon and Jim Vernon of the Indians, and Jim Hegan of Detroit. They're at an age when any day could be the last.

Yet, a young feller who will be 39 in August, looks like he's heading for a "comeback" this season which could keep him on the scene for another couple of years at a youngster's position.

That's PeeWee Reese of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

THE LITTLE CAPTAIN seemed, before spring training started, to be in more difficulty than a trumpet player with loose dentures. He hurt his back last season, was shunted over to third base and batted a lowly .229. When the squad reported, he was listed as just one of five third base candidates, and not the top one at that.

With rookie Dick Gray, a power-hitter from St. Paul, ready for duty at third, this freed Reese. And the little man with the lifetime .270 batting mark is making a determined drive to recapture his long-time post.

Barring injury, he'll be back at the same old stand. But how long he and the others at the dangerous age can go on, only time will tell.

Klines Leading Scorer in City Basketball Loop

Wayne Klines of Smoke Tree Stables, with 133 points in seven games, topped scorers in the desert Basketball League with a 19.0 average.

In second spot was Don Stone of the league-leading Laury's Steak Ranch who has bucketed 129 points in 12 games for a 15.7 average.

The top ten scores as compiled by Howard Haddock, City Recreation superintendent:

JACK KRAMER'S traveling troupe of top tennis players in the pro ranks poses at the Palm Springs Tennis Club where on Saturday night Pancho Gonzales won over Lew Hoad, Australian ace, 6-3, 11-9 to cut the latter's lead to 18-10 in their 100-match global series. 1600 See Gonzales Narrow Gap in Net Series with Hoad

Tennis Club Jammed for Pro Match

Perhaps Pancho Gonzales should play all of the remaining matches in his series with Lew Hoad in Palm Springs.

He came down here to the desert and was his old self again, full of power and cunning, to whip his Australian challenger in straight sets, 6-3, 11-9 under the arcs at the Palm Springs Tennis Club.

A sell-out and standing room only crowd of 1,600 saw and were thrilled by the stellar play.

HIS WIN HERE narrowed the gap in the series to 18-10 with the Aussie leading.

And then on Sunday when the Kramer troupe moved over to Phoenix, Arizona, Gonzales closed up another notch when he defeated Hoad 6-4, 6-4 to make it 18-11.

On the lightning-fast courts of the Tennis Club Saturday night, Gonzales was in complete command the entire distance.

HE CRACKED HOAD'S service twice in the first set and twice again in the second. Only once did he lose his own strong delivery. That was in the 18-point third game of the second set but he came right back in the next game.

Though it was Gonzales' display of power that carried him through, two delicate lobs slipped over Hoad's head were key turning points in the match.

IN THE PRELIMINARY match Pancho Segura and Tony Trabert traded 10 service breaks and wound up in a 10-10 tie, the second draw in their series which Segura now leads 7-6.

Eddie Myerson, Tennis Club pro, who arranged the exhibition here by Jack Kramer's touring net troupe, was highly pleased by the enthusiastic turn-out of local tennis fans and those from other cities who attended and by the brand of tennis they saw.

Sensational Silky Sullivan to Attract Record Crowd for Santa Anita Derby

The electrifying, dramatic stretch drives of Silky Sullivan, unprecedented in centuries of racing history, which have developed into such a sensation, assure with favorable weather a record attendance will be reached for Saturday's 21st running of the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby at 1½ miles.

The dynamic colt, with Bill Shoemaker up, is to race against Old Pueblo (Eddie Arcaro), unbeaten in eight starts until his stunning upset last Thursday, and eight or nine of the other leading three-year-olds on the grounds.

RESULT OF THE RACE will have an important bearing on

Dodgers Past Potential Says Billy Herman

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Until the Los Angeles Dodgers replace their older players, they have "had it" so far as winning National League pennants is concerned.

That was the prediction today of Billy Herman, the former great second baseman, who went to the Milwaukee Braves as a coach this season after serving six years in that capacity with the Dodgers.

"I don't mean to say that any of them are at the end of the road, especially Snider, but they all have passed their potential and that is bound to be bad news for the Dodgers."

"WHY, OUTSIDE OF Warren Spahn and Andy Pafko we haven't any players who have reached their potential," he claimed.

"Spahn is good enough as he is while Pafko doesn't figure to be out there every day."

"I'm sure the Braves of today have an ever brighter future than the Dodgers did when I started coaching for them back in 1951."

Billy doesn't agree with those who think the change from Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, to Los Angeles will give such players as Reese, Snider, Furillo and Hodges "a shot in the arm."

"They've been around too long," Herman reasoned. "A change like that is likely to benefit the younger players, but not the older ones."

HE SAID HE JUST couldn't describe "How badly I felt when I heard about Campy." Roy Campanella, an ace catcher for the Dodgers, suffered a broken neck in an auto accident and his playing career probably is ended.

"I don't think the Dodgers were counting on him to catch every day this year, but he would be a mighty valuable player to have around for spot duty."

Herman believes the Dodgers can "come mighty close to matching the Braves" in pitching.

"That's the one department they aren't hurting in," he said. "But in the outfield and the infield area is catching up with them."

BOWLING

PALM SPRINGS LEAGUE

Competition in the Palm Springs Bowling League tightened up during the week with four teams bunched at the top only two games apart.

As of today, standings of the teams, rolling at the Palm Springs Bowling Academy, was:

Logan Sons, 17-11; Model Plumbing Supply, 16-12; P. S. Mirror and Glass, 16-12; Plaza Motors, 15-13; Rainbow Room, 12-16; Elks Lodge, 8-20.

PLAZA MOTORS, down in fourth place in games won and lost, topped the loop in total pinfall with 19,470 and a 927 average.

Last week Plaza Motors rolled the high team series with 2978, Model Plumbing second with 2896 and Logan Sons third with 2836.

Model Plumbing had the high team game at 1007, Plaza Motors next with 997 and Elks Lodge, third with 979.

HIGH INDIVIDUAL SERIES was rolled by Norm McDonald of Plaza Motors with 564; second was Bob Blauvelt of Model Plumbing with 548 and third, Bill Brubaker of Plaza Motors with 545.

High individual game honors went to Lou Folk of Rainbow Room who rolled 214. Second was Mike Danko of Rainbow Room with 201 and Fred Goetz, Plaza Motors and Will Neblung of Model Plumbing tied for third with an even 200.

Blauvelt topped in high average with 180. G. Kuffner, Plaza Motors, second with 175 and R. Newell, Logan Sons, third with 173.

MIXED DOUBLES LEAGUE

Dill Lumber Company bowlers in the Monday Night Mixed Doubles League clung to their lead with a 59-29 mark as result of last night's activity at the Palm Springs Bowling Academy with Deep Well Inn in second spot with 52-36. Others were Hoams Pools, 47½-40½; Joe Berta's, 43-45; K. W. Williams, 41-47; Jim Sharpe Realty, 21½-66½.

Last night Hoams Pools rolled the high team series with 1920 while Deep Well had the high team game at 699.

Betty Oistad rolled high series for women with 532 and Billy Pepper high individual game, 201.

Ray Newell had the high series for men, 515 and D. D. Paul high game, 193.

Bad Weather Slows Major Conditioning

By UNITED PRESS

Major league managers were fretting today over the unseasonal weather that has thrown a wet blanket over spring camps from Florida to Arizona.

"We've already lost more time than we usually do in two or three springs," wailed St. Louis Cardinal Manager Fred Hutchinson at St. Petersburg, Fla. "We'll just have to play ourselves into condition in the exhibition games."

"We're 'way behind,'" chimed in, Cleveland Indian pilot Bobby Bragan from Tucson, Ariz. "It's goodbye to that fast start I was hoping for."

THE PENNANT-WINNING Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees at least reported progress in the contract-signing department although the world champions seem no closer to an agreement with World Series hero Lew Burdette.

The Braves announced that pitchers Bob Buhl 18-7 and Gene Conley 9-9 had signed. But Burdette, three-time victor over the Yankees in the Series, remained unsigned after an hour and 15-minute conference with General Manager John Quinn. He is believed asking for $40,000, about twice his 1957 salary.

First-baseman Bill Skowron signed for an estimated $22,000 with the Yankees, leaving only 38-year-old pitcher Tommy Byrne outside the fold.

SILKY SULLIVAN, sired by Sullivan and whose dam is Lady N Silk, is owned by Tom Ross of San Marino and Phil Klipstein.

Ross has been a visitor here with his friend, Jack Scannel, for much of the winter.

The stable recorded five wins last week.

Following the thrills and color of The Derby, Santa Anita's richest and most successful meeting will continue over for the only Monday racing on Mar. 10, when the $15,000 San Bernardino Handicap will be run and on Tuesday, Mar. 11, for the climactic closing day feature of the $120,000-added San Juan Capistrano Cap on the grass.

2600 On Hand for Program

More than 2,500 spectators gathered at Eldorado County Club Sunday to watch two exciting polo games and to aid in the dedication of the club's new international polo field.

The Marine Corps band from the Twentynine Palms Marine Corps base provided music for the occasion and officers of the base assisted in the dedication ceremonies.

THE CON-CAR team, so named by L. C. Smith, backer of the team and one of its star players, after his two daughters Connie and Caroline, had too much experience for the newly formed Eldorado team which was crippled by the loss of Bill Tevis, a flu victim, and Briane Stevenson who broke his shoulder in practice earlier in the week.

Con-Car, from San Mateo, won 5 goals to 2.

IN THE SECOND GAME, Red Diamonds of Pomona, defeated a strong San Francisco team 8 goals to 7 in one of the fastest polo games played on the coast this year. The winning goal came in the last chucker.

Adding to the international touch were Erwin Arnaz, who came from Mexico City for the games and Greg Baldwin who came from Hawaii.

Both praised the new Eldorado Field highly, declaring it one of the fastest and in the most beautiful setting, they had ever seen.

All proceeds from the exciting program went to bolster the Palm Springs United Fund Drive.

Semi-Finals Tomorrow in Shuffleboard

Semi-finals in the second annual Shuffleboard Tournament sponsored by the City Recreation Department will be held tomorrow starting at 9 a.m. at Sahara Trailer Park courts.

Ray Leggett of Rancho Trailer Park, general chairman of the tournament, said that entries this year far exceed those of last year.

Leggett met with Bill Raynes, Paul Byers, Bill Childs and Howard Haddock, the tournament committee, and it was decided to hold the semi-finals and finals at one of the trailer parks instead of Tamarisk Park, the site to be decided by a drawing. Sahara won the semi-finals site and the place of the finals, to be held Friday, March 7, will be decided after tomorrow's play.

Trophies, donated by the Security First National Bank, will be awarded the winners after Friday's finals.

Roubanis Hailed As New Vault Champion

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Handsome George Roubanis of Greece could well be the leading collegiate pole vaulter in the United States this year, UCLA Coach Ducky Drake believes.

Drake told the Southern California Track and Field Writers Assn., Monday that Roubanis, third in the 1956 Olympic Games in the pole vault, had set a goal of 15 feet, 6 inches for himself this year. Drake said Roubanis could well do it.

AT THAT MEET, he represented Palm Springs as Good Will Ambassador.

APPLE VALLEY (AP)—Parry O'Brien, former University of Southern California track star and world shot put champion, plans to compete in the first annual Apple Valley Relays on March 22.

Sponsors of the event said Monday that O'Brien would compete against UCLA's Duane Miller, SC's Dave Davis and Occidental's Glen Johnson in the shot put.

O'Brien's NEXT appearance in the shot put circle will be in Trinidad on April 22.

He has been invited by British authorities to appear in games staged in honor of Princess Margaret Rose at Port au Spain in the Colonial Games.

O'Brien likes banking and he likes Palm Springs.

IN A LETTER to city council last week, he expressed his appreciation on being allowed to be Good Will Ambassador from Palm Springs on his European trip.

In each city where he went as captain of the United States weight team, he presented his credentials to the Burgomeisters as ambassador from the Palm Springs desert area.

"I deeply appreciate the honor of representing Palm Springs abroad," he wrote council.

Shot Put Champ Likes Banking Job

From the shot put circle to a swivel chair behind a desk in a bank was an easy move for Parry O'Brien, world Shot Put Champion with a record of 63 feet, 1½ inches set in the Los Angeles Coliseum in November, 1956.

Now he is a resident of Palm Springs and assistant manager of the City National Bank.

O'Brien, A GRADUATE of the University of Southern California, majored in business there and after he graduated, joined the City National Bank upon the advice of his close friend, Al Hart, president of the bank.

When the local office of the bank was established, O'Brien came here to join the staff. He and his family live at 634 Bedford Drive.

O'Brien's NEXT appearance in the shot put circle will be in Trinidad on April 22.

He has been invited by British authorities to appear in games staged in honor of Princess Margaret Rose at Port au Spain in the Colonial Games.

JERRY LEWIS WILL make his first solo club appearance on the West Coast when he opens in the Chi Chi Starlite Room on Friday, March 7 for 16 days. Lewis has prepared a special show for his desert engagement, featuring dancers Dick Humphreys and Peg Leg Bates, and his own 17-piece orchestra conducted by Lou Brown with Murray Frank on the drums. Acts are staged by Nick Castle.

Village School Enrollment Hits New High

Palm Springs school enrollment today reached 3,061, the highest figure ever recorded in school district history.

Schools Sup. Wallace Muelder said that this represents an increase of 294 pupils over the 2,767 registered when school opened last September.

THE INCREASE, Muelder said, does not take into account students who enrolled during the school year and later dropped out of class.

A breakdown of the total enrollment figures shows that 807 students are attending high school classes. Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School has 465 pupils.

OTHER SCHOOLS: Cahulla, 304; Cathedral City, 318; Desert Hot Springs, 185; Katherine Finchy, 426; Frances S. Stevens, 239, and Cielo Vista, 337.

Muelder noted that February has been the traditionally peak month for school enrollment, but he said, "this has become less significant as the resort becomes a year-round community," indicating the belief that enrollment may go even higher in coming months.

Janet Pilgrim Suffers Minor Injuries in Mishap

Actress Janet Pilgrim suffered minor injuries here Sunday when a car in which she was riding went out of control and overturned.

Desert Hospital officials said the 23-year-old actress suffered a "slight fracture" of the left wrist and a bruised forehead.

California Highway Patrol officers said she was a passenger in a car driven by Village banker Parry O'Brien, 26, of 634 Bedford Drive.

O'Brien told officers he was tuning his car radio while driving towards Palm Springs on Highway 111, just west of the city limits. O'Brien said the car started to leave the road and went out of control as he swerved back on to the road, the CHP reported.

The auto rolled over, winding up on its top. O'Brien was unhurt.

The injured actress, whose off-stage name is Charlene Whitelaw, listed her home as Dallas, Texas.

Watch the Fumes

CHICAGO — (UP) — Slow-moving traffic can cause more than just frayed nerve ends according to the Chicago Motor Club. Carbon monoxide gas entering the car is increased, and cars from all sides eject the deadly fumes. The club advises motorists to keep their cars well ventilated to avoid being overcome. Such a concentration as found in slow-moving traffic may not be detected until too late.

'Leisure Lift' Plans Trip to Santa Anita

PALM DESERT—An excursion to Santa Anita Park, second trip in the "Leisure Lift" series, was today scheduled for March 8.

The Santa Anita excursion, featured by the Palm Desert Leisure Lift, gets under way from the Palm Desert Post Office shortly after passengers board the tour bus at 9 a.m.

Leisure Lift travelers will lunch at the Santa Anita club house and spend the afternoon viewing the races, according to Lou Kuehner, Leisure Lift director.

Webster's Dictionary defines Cosmopolitan as: Belonging to all the world; at home in any country without local prejudices.—Cosmopolite as: A plant or animal found in most parts of the world... Now if Mr. Webster had Palm Springs in his good book it might be defined as: belonging to all the world; local prejudices (reflecting pride in the area); people from most parts of the world found here.

True to the definition, we have from DENMARK, OSCAR AAROE. Born in Denmark, he decided very early to dedicate himself to the oldest and most highly skilled trade in that country... today he is here and we know him as THE DANISH SILVERSMITH.

THE ART REQUIRES that one serve a period of 4½ years apprenticeship... this Mr. Aaroe did and also worked for some time with GEORGE JENSEN in Copenhagen... and has been 25 years in the United States.

You need only walk into his shop to see him hand-crafting intricate jewelry of sterling silver and gold. He is able to make almost anything... translating your own ideas into lovely trimmings, ornaments, cuff links, earrings, or even ornaments for SILVER MOUNTED SADDLERY.

HE WORKS QUIETLY but eagerly, approaching each new task as though it was an artistic privilege. Commenting on the unusual beauty of the intricate pieces, he will nod modestly at the display of blue ribbons, won "by his own hands."

Important for most of us to know, is that THE DANISH SILVERSMITH also has a fine service department... repairing jewelry, and silver serving pieces. Most discerning housewives are very cautious about where they have their lovely silver and jewelry repaired... and so they should be. Rest assured that this craftsman will handle any problem you might have with care and expertness.

OF INTEREST ALSO, in the shop is the Danish glassware with its simple elegant style... ceramic pieces... and DANISH CHRISTMAS PLATES with their charming combination of blue and white and a different artistic reproduction for each year.

Almost forgot to mention Mr. Aaroe's handcrafted cloverleaf pill box... made of sterling; this is the way to follow the doctor's orders alright, it becomes an occasion instead of a chore!

COSMOPOLITE OR NOT, anyone can reflect the good taste in his home with MIRRORS from the HOUSE OF GLASS! With just a little planning, mirrors can produce a wonderland of space illusion... and MR. THOMAS will be happy to consult with you. From a complete mirrored wall to a size for your dressing table, this is the way to add distinctive beauty to your home.

Mirrors are important in adding a new dimension to your living enjoyment—not just because they reflect an image—they must do it faithfully. (Distorted images are for the circus). This means exceptional quality and that is why... the House of Glass.

THEY USE LOF which is the ultimate in glass, and it is ELECTRO PLATED & COPPER BACKED. To the homeowner this means sparkling clarity that lives on and on. No detail is overlooked. For an entire wall, even the switch plates and phone jacks are carefully covered to produce the most successful result.

Anything done in mirrors is beautiful... even waste baskets—so look around you and see if this wouldn't be a simple approach to more livable elegance. Mr. Thomas likes to feel that, "anything kin to mirrors is related to us." (444 South Indian Avenue)

Palm Desert Leads in Area Building Activity

PALM DESERT—This area led the desert unincorporated communities in building last week, with permits issued having a population of $114,844, according to records of the county building department office located here.

Permits issued were: Alex Saparito, 44-706 San Jose, addition, $700; H. Harthorn, 74-134 Candlewood, swimming pool, $4,000; Eldorado Country Club, replacement service, $200; M. Reynolds, 45-710 Shadow Mountain Drive, $3,000.

J. D. Odiorne, 74-533 Pepper Tree, dwelling, $14,625; B. W. Baker, San Nicholas Street, dwelling, $7,816; George LaConte, 72-742 Santa Gertrudis, dwelling, $16,383; M.O.M. Development Corp., Sierra Vista Drive, two dwellings at $11,800 each, and three at $14,800 each.

While most Americans expect to live to nearly 70, the average American Indian dies at 39. Approximately 53 per cent of Indians die before they reach the age of five, whereas in the general population the rate is now about 3 per cent.

Little Theater To Hold Tryouts Monday Evening

PALM DESERT — The Little Theatre lights go on again in their section of the Desert Magazine Building on Highway 111 in Palm Desert at 7:30 p.m., Monday, March 10, when those interested will read for the next play, and sign up for miscellaneous duties in connection with its presentation.

Everyone is invited to attend both sessions of this meeting; however, tryouts will start at 7:30 p.m., and carry through until 9 p.m., at which time President Lou Miller has scheduled the organizational meeting.

Director Clay Stearns said the Casting Committee will be in attendance and will help with the readings. Refreshments will be served by the Board of directors, the hosting group for this affair, Lou Miller, Kathryn Gordon, Jeannette Constantino, Warren McClain, Marian Harris, Grace Hume, Jack Cunningham, Shirley Wall, Nina Shumway, Ann Carpenter and Clay Stearns.

DESERT HOSPITAL ADMINISTRATOR Robert Henwood is pictured with a Mark 7 Bird Respirator, which was donated to the hospital by Dr. Joseph Sage, MD. Dr. Sage recently returned from a speaking tour on which he addressed groups at medical schools and veterans groups in Milwaukee, Chicago, Washington and San Francisco. His topic was the new Bird respirator. Although the unit has been used in the hospital before, this is the first one that is a regular piece of equipment in the hospital. The Bird Respirator was invented by local resident Forrest Bird, and although it is manufactured in several cities, it is assembled and packaged and sent from Palm Springs. (Desert Sun Photo)

Little More Loving Would Keep the Little Woman From Extravagance, Expert Claims

By GAY PAULEY United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, AP—Figuring why modern woman is what she is, and does what she does, keeps the experts busier than grandma was before the invention of the washing machine.

They're worried about our complexes, our diets, our politics, our love lives. Now they're on a new tack—this time, figuring out why we spend.

THE CREATOR of this latest analysis is a woman, mind you—an ad agency executive named Janet Wolff, who has put her views in a 294-page treatise called "What Makes Women Buy" McGraw-Hill. "I can answer that one," said our office wag, when he saw the title. "Because it's OUR paychecks they're spending."

But Miss Wolff indicates a little more loving from husbands would mean a little less spending by wives. She says one of the major factors in feminine buying is the desire for attention.

"PERHAPS THE greatest emotional need of the housewife is romance," said Miss Wolff, who has been motivating our spending through her 16 years of writing advertising copy.

"After a few years of marriage her life has settled into a routine which may be satisfying in many ways, but is hardly glamorous," says the author. "The romantic attentions her husband paid her in their courtship and early married life are gone."

"LIFE IS... MORE routine. She feels the need to escape... to bring romance into her life."

Thus, her interests in soap operas, love stories, romantic novels.

"Products which bring romance into women's daily lives immediately profit," Miss Wolff didn't go into what these were.

The author repeats statistics pretty well accepted by those who have something to sell—whether it's a cake of soap or a limousine. Women control the bulk of consumer spending.

In analyzing why we buy, she also comes up with some other interesting comments on the female species.

SOME INSTANCES:

On the term "housewife": Most women hate the label, she said. "The term... especially in the upper and middle-income groups carries little prestige, little glamour."

On getting along with other women: "Most women feel some rivalry with other women, and keep their guard up..." She said this rivalry shows especially in the clothes department, where women "want to be in style, but don't want a dress or hat exactly like someone else's. In contrast, a man... feel uncomfortable if he isn't wearing what other men are."

ON CLOTHES shopping: The chore "creates tensions" in us, she said. Maybe it's because of the "heavy" decisions involved—figuring whether the outfit is becoming, fashionable and whether husbands and friends will approve.

On our sense of humor: "Women seem to look at life more seriously than men... to take life and jokes literally as well

Speaker Claims Tax Exemptions Cause High Taxes

PALM DESERT — The Rev. Frank H. Nelson of Pasadena, vacationing in the High Desert (Joshua Tree) told an audience assembled Sunday at the home of Mrs. Florence Krims, Grapevine and Route 74, that there is one reason for increased property taxes that has been overlooked and that is "unjustifiable tax exemptions."

Meeting for purposes of organizational activities, the speaker cited figures taken from a recent report of the Board of Equalization stating that the total of $1,324,200,000 has been taken off the tax rolls of California by these many forms of tax exemption, "some of which are not justified in this privilege."

Edgar Sergeant Services Set In Kalamazoo

Funeral services will be held later this week in Kalamazoo, Mich., for Edgar M. Sergeant, 80, 45-900 Shadow Mountain Drive, Palm Desert, who died at his home last Friday.

Sergeant, a Palm Desert winter resident, was owner and operator of the E. M. Sergeant Fuel Company for 45 years. He has lived in Palm Desert for 10 years.

He is survived by his widow, Hazel, one son, Fred Sergeant, of Kalamazoo, and a daughter, Mrs. Virginia McCarter, New Orleans, La.
